

Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form

It is the policy of the Journal of Health Science and Nursing Studies (JHSNS) to ensure all authors disclose to the readers any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest that may have a direct bearing on the subject matter of the article.

All authors are required to declare any financial, professional, or personal relationships that could be perceived as potential sources of bias. This includes, but is not limited to, funding sources, affiliations, or other arrangements that may influence the content of the article.

Failure to disclose relevant conflicts of interest may result in the rejection or retraction of the manuscript. The editors reserve the right to decline publication if sponsors exert undue influence on the research process or publication rights.

The corresponding author is responsible for collecting and submitting conflict of interest declarations for all co-authors as part of the manuscript submission process.
