

Stellaris Armiger

Armiger means the bearer of arms. The word usually refers to an esquire attendant of a knight or a monarch. However, another meaning is an individual who had proved themselves worthy to bear royal arms of kings. The basis of this royal martial art is to master their body through the mastery of their mind. Like their weapons, an armiger's skills and spirit will be tested through hardship and adversaries. To rule his subjects and beyond, a king must rule his mind and body supreme. Braving the sea, taken by the winds, reliving the glory of the past, shaping the future, and he shall shine brightly like the stars.

There are seven schools in Stellaris Armiger:
