

“Friendship”

I trusted you with my secrets
I trusted you with my heart
I thought we actually had something
But I was just being used
Used by you
Someone that doesn't care for others
Someone who gets frustrated with people's happiness
When you don't get your way
You whine and throw a fit
When someone says something you don't like
You talk and talk
Until your jaw grows tired
Tired of the insults you throw at their name
I trusted you with my secrets
I trusted you with my heart
I thought we actually had something
