

JOHN ROLLINS

John Rollins served as executive vice president at Accolade, Inc., an on-demand health care navigator for employers, health plans and health systems, from 2007-2016. Prior to his leadership at Accolade, Rollins was managing partner for Accenture, a global management consulting and professional services firm that provides strategy, consulting, digital, technology, and operations services. More recently, Rollins has become a founding team member for Patina Health, a new company dedicated to profoundly improving the healthcare and aging experience for older adults.

Rollins is also the former chair of the Board of Directors for the Wilma Theater and former board chair for both the Green Tree Community Health Foundation and the Friends of the Wissahickon. He previously was a Board member for the Academy of Vocal Arts, and the Opera Company of Philadelphia. A graduate from Carnegie Mellon University, Rollins earned a Master of Business Administration with an emphasis in corporate finance and investment management at the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. His tenure as a trustee at Arcadia began on August 1, 2019.

