An Opportunity for Your Listings

As the market changes, it's important to use every tool in your belt for a great listing.

You want your listings to go quick, confidently. The best way to do that is to ensure your listing has all the information buyers are seeking.

We're not just talking about great photos and detailed info. We are talking about assets and media as a complete picture. We are talking about floor plans!

How often do potential buyers enter a listing that only has basic photos and they are immediately disappointed because the layout wasn't what they imagined?

FBS, the same company that provides us with Flexmls, also provides the simplest floor plan scanning app to date! FlōPlan! You just need your smartphone and a walkthrough of a listing, and they do the rest!

Plus, there's no fumbling around with downloads and uploading to the MLS. It's connected to your MLS account so you can just hit the "link" button to show it right on your listing.
