

Inukuroo's Commissions Terms of Service

By commissioning your art, you accept and agree with the following terms.

In regards of the commissions:

- Make sure my drawing style fits what you're looking for; I can't (and won't) be changing it to fit your character, neither will replicate other artist's or show's style;
- Aside realism, you can ask almost anything. Be sure to give a detailed description of what you want, so it can be worked on without any problems;
- You can post your commission wherever you feel like it, but do not remove the watermark from the drawing, and always credit the art;
- Your commission may or may not be posted on my social media. So if you prefer they do not be posted, or if by any means this makes you uncomfortable, make sure to state beforehand;
- I'll be sending you wip's during all the process, so you can be sure everything's right. If you find a mistake once the art is finished or in later stages, a fee will be charged to fix it;
- Your commission is for personal use only; you're not allowed to make any commercial use with it;
- You're also not allowed to claim the art as made by you. Never;
- If you're not the commissioner, you're not allowed to make any kind of editing or changes at the artwork without permission;
- Not safe for work (NSFW) commissions will have a 20% fee on the final price; If it's something that makes me uncomfortable to work with, fee goes up to 50%;

- Commissions are not necessarily first come first serve. I usually try to make them in order, but I may choose the ones I'll be working first depending, also, on complexity and time consumption;

In regards of the payment:

- Payment must be done total in advance, at most after the rough sketch (simple, and only to show posing), otherwise your drawing won't be done by any means. In case of a very high amount, you can choose to pay half beforehand, and half after it's finished;
- Prices in the commission sheet are only base prices, for simple designs. They can vary depending on complexity of the character and details;
- Payments are only through Paypal. I'll invoice them as soon as you confirm you want the commission and what you want to be done;

In regards of refunds:

- If you decide you do not want the art anymore, you can ask for a partial refund if it's at the refined sketch at most. After that, you're not eligible for it;
- If by any means your art can't be finished, you're eligible to a full refund, no matter in what stage your art is;

In regards of the completion time:

- The usual time to get your commission finished is up to a month, once it has been started. If there's a queue in front of your commission, time can be extended depending on the number of commissions ahead of yours. You can check the progress and the queue in this link: <https://trello.com/b/agFQ8HVi/commissions-list>
- If you want or need your drawing in less than the usual time, a rush fee can be paid for it. The fee value will depend on the time I'll have to finish the drawing;
