Part One - Questions and Answers

- What do you think are the best Web 3.0 investment opportunities ?

It all depends on what you want to invest in, long term or short term, you have to make a choice. Today, Web3.0 requires capital and good knowledge (if not luck) if you want to start. It's not like E-commerce which can be better if you don't have a lot of resources because it can work with little budget and good basics only.

Today Web3.0 is double edged: Less chance to really succeed and therefore riskier, but the opportunity to make bigger gains when it works.

- It would be necessary to put CC on the Matic network for the airdrop to avoid the gas fees.

He's not really convinced by this, the network is less reliable, there are more problems, but it will be seen!

- Are NFTs and cryptos better than real estate to invest now?

Real estate has always been, remains and will remain a good investment for the stability of your funds but it doesn't bring you huge profitability or it's really very rare. It depends on your investment strategy: either you prefer security or profitability.

It also depends on what you know best and what interests you most.

- Do you know many dropshippers still on the French market that are making big numbers?

Yes, especially with Tiktok now that has become a good new market.

- How much do you think it takes to start your own NFT project?

It depends if you want to make a big or small collection. For a small collection of about 1000 NFTs you can get by with a budget of about 5-10k, for a big collection like 10,000 NFTs you will need between 15 and 20k. All the big projects we see today have budgets around 100k

- Hi, I have 1 500 € what do you advise me to do ? do I take a CC, invest in P2E or wait to do more before investing ?

It will depend on if that's all you have, you must be able to invest only what you are ready to lose. You also have to diversify. Even if CC is a good project to invest in, it's still an investment, so only invest what you can lose and diversify to lower the risk.

- Do you think that whales are in contradiction with P2E? Most whales are not gamers...

It depends on their strategies, they don't have to play per se, they can for example just invest and wait for the game to explode to resell.

- Is there anything you can tell us about the Mecachain collab?

He doesn't know more and even if he did, he wouldn't say it because they have to announce things well so that everyone understands them in the same way. This also allows them to not promise things in the wind, everything that is announced is sure.

- Will there be speakers/utilities on agencies/other marketing related?

Why not, see if others are interested, need to discuss with members and in the questionnaire #ideas

- What do you think of the project? On the floor price...

Floor price has never been a concern of the project. They just want to build things at LT and it doesn't really go through the floor at first. When the real holder community comes in, the floor should slowly come up on its own.

- How do you think the mentality of the NFT market will change?

It's hard to predict. According to him, the market has already changed, at the beginning people were there for the fun of it, for the pleasure of entering this Web3.0 revolution. Today, many are only there for the money and the profit, not to take advantage of all the opportunities that this market can offer. This will make the field crash but it will allow to clean it up (number of projects to be released, sorting of investors) to find a good mentality.

- Is there any celebrity marketing planned yet?

They realized that paying celebrities is not really useful, it brings people in for 1-2 days, but they are not really interested and investors. It's just a way to raise the hype but nothing more.

They have put a lot on twitter to gain followers and therefore be more visible on this platform because there are many people interested in this world on it. For the marketing with known investors, we will have to wait until the project is more advanced to prove them the strength and the potential of CC.

- How much time do you spend on this project/your other businesses?

He's coming back a bit, he was quite absent after the mint because he had to reorganize everything else because CC took a lot of time. He is now back to a healthy organization between all his businesses and the project.

- Any previews on the Sandbox site?

Yes, go to twitter! Sandbox is going to look like a Minecraft but with more possibilities in actions. Other Metaverse will come with better graphics (like GTA) but we will have to wait much longer because it will take a lot more time to develop them, especially for the designs...
