

Alex is a visual artist, illustrator, and filmmaker. He creates abstract and unstructured expressions which visualize and explore the contrast between emotion and sensibility, and technical illustrations for conventions and conferences. Alex is interested in experimenting with people and technology, pushing the boundaries of what is possible in his field. He is always seeking out new techniques and technologies to experiment with, pushing the boundaries of what is possible with people in his field of practice. In addition to his artistic pursuits, Alex is also an experienced teacher, sharing his experience with learners of all ages and skill levels. Alex is a member of the NB Disability Art Collective, and exhibits his work online and in NB Galleries.
