

SUGGESTED GUIDELINES FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE EC&I 830 COURSE ENVIRONMENT

Student Blogs (i.e., Your Blog)

- Weekly reflections on course readings & debates/discussions
- Comments from other students on your blog posts & your responses to those comments

Google Plus

- Questions directly related to the course
- Responses to other students' questions
- Course-related articles/videos that you want to quickly share but don't want to blog about

Blog Hub (eci830.ca)

- Go here to read the posts of all students in the course (all student posts will automatically be sent here once you have submitted your blog URL)
- If you want to respond to a specific student's post, simply click the title of the blog and proceed to comment directly on that student's blog

Zoom Synchronous Sessions

- Synchronous (in real time) attendance in weekly sessions
- Participation via chat and voice

Twitter (Optional but recommended)

- Tweets related to course content (e.g., articles, resources, blog posts, reflections, thoughts, commentary, questions)
- Sharing of your own blog posts (especially when looking for feedback or comments).
- Interactions using the course hashtag and other related hashtags
- Retweets and likes of course-related material
- Replies to & interactions with course members, educators, & other relevant Tweeters