

SL-Make the opposition mad.

Hey Ali,

Your YouTube channel popped up when I was looking for content creators who help with writing. In your last video, you mention the importance of a shitty first draft.

Beginners often struggle with writer's block, so this tip is a great way to overcome it!

Your helpful content was easy to consume, so I enjoyed getting to know your brand. Then, I checked out your socials and found your website in my search.

It makes a good first impression, but you're missing out on a great sales funnel.

You can build it up by boosting the trust and credibility of your fans.

The best way to do this is to send your audience insights into your industry with a touch of your personality.

If you make that a weekly event, they will bond with your brand identity.

That way, you can build a bigger audience by spreading your positive message.

I've created a free sample to show you how you can make a huge impact on your community.

I can send you the file if you agree to it first.

I'm sure you're busy, so you can answer this email with a quick yes if you'd like to have it.

I like getting educated on social media marketing, so I enjoyed getting to know your brand. That made me check out your socials, and in the process, I found your website.

If you are interested, answer this email with a quick yes so that I can forward you the file.
