

A Cricket Match - Jack at Dummy Goughers, versus Lime- Hole Field Stroddler's played on the ground of the first named club.

Silent Isaac, Silent Companion, Fent Mary, Mad Jack, Copper Nob, Woggas, Owd Lovey, Billinton, Sam o Siggs, Jack o Riggs, Owd Ale, Micky Dripping, Mall o Jemimas, Green Stocking, Tamar o Tidy's, Troubler, Black Strap, Puler, Paddy, Salmon Somphy, Ninepence, Maggy o Puffs, Hall o Mowfins, Quaker Oats, Chatty Shuffler, Bloody Hell Charlie, Blubber Muck, Ab o Chitt, Bet o Jones, Eawr Jammie's, Tricklin' Trotters,

To end -- Sam o Bally's, Joe o Mally's, Pimbo, Piniahs, Nan o Miles and her brother, Owd Sore Arse.

This magnificent list is quite as good as anything Thomas Hardy produced in dear old Wessex. In those Southern Counties the Saxon ruled.

Here in the North, Scandinavian influence is evident, harsh k's and q's are the order of the day. The Vikings got as far as Saddleworth alright.

Becket.

In the village of Delph,
His long life he has spent;
It was dear to his heart,
Wherever he went;
As scholar and writer,
His journey's now o'er,
And the village he loved,
Will know him no more.

H. E. Whitehead.

Greetings.

Though now-a-days we seldom meet,
Yet to me your smiles still sweet;
So it shall be until the end,
A cousin dear, and loving friend.

With all that is best,
Harry.

Thoughts.

It breaks the heart,
And stills the song;
When one broods on
A fancied wrong.

H. E. Whitehead.

A Cricket Match - Jack at Dummy Goughers, Versus Lime- Hole Field Stroddler's played on the ground of the first named club.

Silent Isaac, Silent Companion, Fent Mary, Mad Jack, Copper Nob, Woggas, Owd Lovey, Billinton, Sam o Siggs, Jack o Riggs, Owd Ale, Micky Dripping, Mall o Jemimas, Green Stocking, Tamar o Tidy's, Troubler, Black Strap, Puler, Paddy, Salmon Somphy, Ninepence, Maggy o Puffs, Hall o Mowfins, Quaker Oats, Chatty Shuffler, Bloody Hell Charlie, Blubber M'uck, Ab o Chits Bet o Jones, Eawr Jammie's, Tricklin' Trotters.

To end Sam o Bally's, Joe o Mally's, Pimbo, Piniahs, Nan o Miles and her brother, Owd Sore Arse.

This magnificent list is quite as good as anything Thomas Hardy produced in dear old Wessex. In those Southern Counties the Saxon ruled.

Here in the North, Scandinavian influence is evident, harsh k's and q's are the order of the day. The Vikings got as far as Saddleworth alright.

Becket.

In the village of Delph,
His long life he has spent;
It was dear to his heart,
Wherever he went;
As scholar and writer,
His journey's now o'er,
And the village he loved,
Will know him no more.

H.B. Whitehead.

Greetings.

Though now-a-days we seldom meet,
Yet to me your smiles still sweet;
So it shall be until the end,
A cousin dear, and loving friend.

With all that is best,
Harry.

Thoughts.

It breaks the heart,
And stills the song;
When one broods on
A fancied wrong.

H.B. Whitehead.