Name	Book	Details
Carrie Brown	The Boys in the Boat	Great story, great life lessons, loved the audible version with Edward Hermann narrating
Kodi Dixon	Everybody Always	Embracing life and every person that comes with it. Loving without limits. What it really means to love your neighbor.
Shelby Hammer	People of the Book by Geraldine Brooks	Great story that weaves together history, book preservation, and human interest
Nancy Pannell	The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks	I am not one to read science books for "enjoyment," but this biography manages to teach you about the ethics of science and entertain.
Pam Cepero	Talking to Strangers by Malcolm Gladwell	Listened to the audio while driving on spring break--our perception and communication with others is not what we think
Anabella Charlton	The Name of the Wind by P. Rothfuss	BEST fantasy book I have ever read. Excellent storytelling, character development, and emotional engagement.
	The Neurobehavioral and Social-Emotional Development of Infants and Children by Ed Tronick	Great read to understand human emotional connection/disconnection. Understanding leads to improving

	Five Minds for the Future by Howard Gardner	Understanding children's potential in order to provide them with tools to grow into the best versions of themselves
Morgan Ramsey	The Great Alone- Kristin Hannah	Adventurous story about survival in the wilderness of Alaska and the with a difficult family.
	Where the Crawdads Sing- Delia Owens	Sweet story about surviving alone in the marshes of the east coast. Incredible twists and character development.
	David & Goliath- Malcolm Gladwell	Intellectual book about the difficulties successful people have faced along their journey.
Betty Ann Whitten	The Secrets We Kept-Lara Prescott
Thomas LaFarelle	Astrophysics for people in a hurry - Neil deGrasse Tyson	Modern Physics explained in easy to understand terms.
Bill Coombes	Counting Coup by Larry Colton	It's about Crow Indians and high school girls basketball: great read.
Stephanie Markgraf	Anything by Brene Brown or David McCullough
