Are you interested in being a FanWagn Student Brand Ambassador?

We're hiring our initial cohort of student brand ambassadors at FanWagn to help us lead a resale revolution through sports fanwear on college campuses. Being part of the team means you are stepping into a dynamic role within our ground-breaking, women-led sports tech company.

This opportunity offers hands-on experience in marketing, social media, and event planning and execution in the sports industry. Bring your passion for sports, fandom, and sustainability to work with you, and let's shape the future of fandom together.

As a FanWagn Student Brand Ambassador, you will:

- Collaborate remotely in a vital role with a dynamic startup team.
- Lead a social media marketing campaign to amplify FanWagn's brand and mission.
- Engage other students with an on-campus activation to showcase products offered on the FanWagn marketplace.
- Recruit new buyers and sellers through peer-to-peer marketing on campus.

You'll be a great candidate if you are...

- Currently enrolled in a college or university program pursuing a degree in marketing, sports management, environmental studies, or a field related to FanWagn's mission.
- Social media savvy, as this ambassadorship will be highly dependent on your social media skills, creativity, and reach.
- Able to work independently, prioritize tasks, and meet deadlines in a remote role while balancing school work.
- Adaptable and willing to learn and take on new challenges.
