

Conclusion:

Congratulations! Your presentation worked. The Board Members were so impressed with your knowledge of the Internet they agreed to allow it back in the classrooms. All they asked for was that you continue to stay safe and learn more about the different aspects of the Internet. Great job highlighting some important elements of digital citizenship!

Now its time to show off more of what you know. Try out these online quizzes below to see if you have really learned what it means to be safe on the Internet.
