

Gen[tlemen],

After your communication of this morning I thought it my duty as Miss Walker has placed herself in the hands of my firm, to make enquiry respecting her state of mind, and I have not yet learnt anything to justify me in concluding that her actions exceed the [eccentrix] - I have [therefore] requested my partners to enter a caveat [against] any commission that may be sued out [and] [to] communicate with Mess[e]rs Wigglesworth and Ridsdale [so] that Miss W.[Walker] may have the benefit of our services if requisite - I would have called upon you again but I had two appointments at Huddersfield which compelled me to leave -

I am going further North and on my return I shall endeavor to pay you a visit and shall then wish to have an interview with Miss Walker if convenient -

I am gent[llemen]

[Yours] very [truly]

[Thomas] Rymer
