Q: What is your injury policy?

A: Our day camp can be very physical. Throughout each day, we have many “boo boos” that arise. Boo boos can arise from tumbling, games, aerial silks, or sometimes anxiety that manifests in physical forms. Nonetheless, we typically treat each one the same.

- 1) If we see an injury happen or we are told an injury has happened by a child...we assess the injury. If there is bleeding, possible broken bone, concussion or more serious injury the parent and/or 911 is called immediately. Otherwise the child is given an option for a cold pack or to return to play.
- 2) Band aids are only given in the event of blood or blister.
- 3) If we believe active play could worsen an injury, we will offer the child an alternative activity for the child and prohibit active play at our discretion.
- 4) If a child has not notified our staff of an injury, we cannot make accommodations. Please discuss this with your child.

Q: What is your discipline policy?

A: Day camp at Coastal Athletics is very structured. We follow the schedule so our campers know what is expected of them whether they are here for a week or 10 weeks. Campers are expected to clean up after themselves during lunch, snack and other activities. If a camper has to be re-directed several times during an activity, they may have to sit out for the next activity (to the coach's discretion), If a child is refusing to follow directions or repeatedly does not follow directions throughout the day, a parent will be called. We expect all children to be respectful to each other and their coaches.

Please also keep in mind that we do not set our camp numbers to allow for one on one instruction. If your child has a disability that requires an inclusive environment, please speak to a member of our management team BEFORE registering. It is a disservice to your child to expect our staff to adapt to a situation without notice.
