

My name is Evelyn Korkmaz, a survivor of St. Anne's Residential School. I'm an advocate for my community and have been lobbying the Vatican to release all records pertaining to residential schools so that we may find closure and peace. I met the Pope and he has failed to do what he promised he would do.

JULY 29, 2022: Edmonton, Canada.

After 50 years of waiting for an apology for the horrific treatment of indigenous children in residential schools in Canada, Evelyn Korkmaz, co-founding member of Ending Clergy Abuse (ECA), and survivor of St. Anne's Residential School, met with the Pope on Friday, July 29.

Sources:

Supreme Court will not hear from St. Anne's residential school survivors
Why these survivors and advocates want more than an apology from the Pope