

Hello Dan,

What are your thoughts on this caption & thread designed to grow your audience on Facebook & Twitter?

—
—

They were amazing, right?

I made them after watching your YT video about “Lessons from Elite Athletes”

Because in the video, you talked about exploring different genres like pop & jazz to practice new vocal techniques. Which was very helpful for your viewers who want to develop their sound. Wise words from you as always.

About the caption & thread,

Besides growing your Facebook, The caption was made to grab your viewer's attention, hold it, and generate so much curiosity about your video...

They would go crazy if they don't click on it.

The Thread is the first step of establishing your presence on Twitter while you provide singing tips using a strategy known as the “TSF” strategy.

If you want to reach an untapped audience of singers on Facebook and Twitter (Not even Cheryl Porter has a good Facebook page yet)...

Then drop me a quick reply.

If not, I hope you don't mind having an average of 5 likes per Facebook post...

P.S. (The CTAs could be changed to target your Voice Essentials courses)