

Click here to Watch :- Bad Education Season 2 Episode 4

Click here to Watch :- Bad Education Season 2 Episode 4

Click here to Watch :- Bad Education Season 2 Episode 4

Click here to Watch :- Bad Education Season 2 Episode 4

It is Valentine's Day and headmaster Mr Fraser has planned a special Abbey Grove 'Take Me Out' to help the shy kids find love. New deputy headmistress Professor Celia Green is rubbing everyone up the wrong way, apart from Alfie's father (Harry Enfield), who happened to go to teacher training college with her. Alfie is desperately trying to persuade Miss Gulliver to come to dinner with him, but is distracted by some shock news from Chantelle. Will Gulliver turn up to dinner and who is Martin Wickers's surprise dinner date?

The series focuses on Alfie Wickers (Whitehall), a posh, newly graduated Secondary School history teacher at the fictional Abbey Grove School, in Watford, Hertfordshire. Ever determined to impress his crush, Rosie Gulliver (Solemani), Alfie makes repeated efforts to appear "cool," such as coaching the school football team, organising a weapons amnesty and fielding a candidate for the school elections. Usually, in these efforts, he will turn to his class (particularly Joe, the "teacher's pet"), despite their open disrespect and disgust for him, for help. At the same time, he finds himself having to deal with the shenanigans of his eccentric headmaster, Shaquille "Simon" Fraser (Horne) and meet the expectations of his deputy headmistress, Isobel Pickwell (Gomez).