$250 Replica League (9th season) Looking for new managers to join!

We are a replica league on FANTRAX that covers all 32 NFL Teams. We have two conferences, NFC and AFC, and each of their own complete player pool. So it's essentially like two 16 team leagues and the conference champs face each other in the SuperBowl. This will be our 9th season and we're looking to fill several teams. We gave a few guys one last chance to step it up and be more active and they just couldnt handle it so we're hoping to find new owners who can come in, contribute, and be active. We're not just looking for guys to come in and manage a roster on Fantrax…we're building an interactive league that communicates and has fun with one another. We're very active on Discord chat and expect all managers to be active there and want to participate well the social parts of the league and not just managing a roster. So if that's you then please join….you'll have a blast!

For complete rules please visit our league website and read over our League CBA.

I will provide a brief summary of the league below...

We are a weekly H2H Points league played on Fantrax. You'll have three matchups every week: a division rival, a conference game, and a non-conference game (exception we play 4 games in week It's no different than a 1 matchup setup except for you now have 3 live scoring screens to watch instead of one! 12 week regular season x 3 matchups per week (plus 1 week with 4) = 40 total regular season matchups. This will result in you playing every division rival (3 teams) 4 times each, every team in your conference and outside of your division (12 teams) 1 time each, and all of the other conference teams 1 time each.

We have practice squads that act similar to minor league rosters where you can store up to 10 rookie players without it counting against roster spots. Gives you a chance to hold on to guys and let them develop! Build that dynasty! Players lose rookie status when they exceed 24 games played in the NFL.

We have a bonus structure that increases salary for top performing players at each position so it makes them more and more expensive to retain. Earn that money!

The replica aspect is fun because we have two conferences we track and all of the divisions in the NFL. The playoff structure is identical and the conference champs face off in the SuperBowl.

We keep a history of league activity on our Discord Chat server.

Since we have a dedicated player pool for each conference it means you can only trade within your conference. That way we don't merge player pools. But again, within your conference it's essentially a 16 team league so trading is not a problem at all. Very active league.

We are a money league. Entry fee is $254.07. 4.07 of that goes to pay the Fantrax Premium League fee ($129.95) and the other 250 all goes into the pot (100% payouts). All fees will be collected and dispersed through Fantrax Treasurer.

So if you're looking for an active league that has a lot of moving parts to build and manage a roster and compete in a replica setting of the NFL then look no further. This is the league for you!

Ok so as I mentioned earlier, we weeded out some inactive teams and we're looking for upgrades! We have openings in both the NFC and AFC and it will be a dispersal draft for both conferences so perfect time to come in. You can draft your core guys and picks and build your team from the ground up how you want instead of just taking over an existing roster.

Open franchises:

Panthers
Rams
Cardinals

Browns
