

Best Friends Breakdown

It was a bright sunny summer lunchtime and best friends Molly and Maddie were hanging on the monkey bars chatting about Maddie's slumber party this weekend, then suddenly Miss Miller walked over to them with the new girl Poppy who was having her visit. Miss Miller asked the girls tomorrow if Poppy could play with them. The girls replied "yes" with a smile. As they left Maddie and Molly turned to each other, and sighed they had heard rumors that this girl Poppy was rude and mean. As the dancing bell rang for the end of lunch all the children hurried into the classroom like a herd of elephants. The girls were doing their writing when Miss Miller came over and told the girls "Thank you" for playing with Poppy tomorrow. They smiled brightly as she walked away. That night at dinner Molly was telling her Mum about this new girl. Her Mum thought it was great that the girls could widen their group of friends. But Molly was still unsure, so she decided to facetime Maddie and talk to her about how she was feeling. She tried calling Maddie 10 times and she still didn't pick up, this was not like Maddie. Finally about 30 minutes later she picked up. In the background of the call was Poppy, that's right Poppy was standing there! I told Maddie I actually couldn't call and would call her later on. I was hoping that Poppy would have gone so I could ask Maddie why she was there. Then at 8:30 I received a call from Maddie. I asked her why Poppy went to her house. It turns out that their Dad's work together and their families had dinner together, her Mum told Maddie to look after Poppy. Molly was annoyed because she thought that Maddie was going to hang out with only Poppy now. She then said good night and hung up the phone. She couldn't sleep all night so she grabbed her phone and decided to text Maddie to apologise. As she was texting Maddie texted her and said "I'm sorry about what happened you will always be my best friend you are my sunshine that makes me happy, love Mads. I replied with "I'm sorry too, I was just a bit jealous, love you see you at school tomorrow". Bang I heard a noise outside my window.
