~ (PAST) ~

Born & raised in Yamanashi, Japan, by his father and mother. But his father sort of disappeared without a single trace. When he was at the age of 5. Rax was a varily nice child. He was clever in Preschool to Middle School. Also he would be the only student that worked very hard and did his work by himself alone. Then He graduated from middle school. Then he went to highschool. He learned a lot in high school, like History, Science, Wielding and other things he would like to try doing in school. But for love, sadly he didn't seem to find any luck for love or someone to hook up too. Except he remained single though. Along with him being hardworking in his schools & classes. After he graduated from high School, his mother gave him a lab coat. But through the school years Rax was very lonely as both a child, teenager, & young adult. Now Rax is ready to live life, At the age of 20. He had lots of research on a few subjects to know about it. But has other interests to research on too. After Rax already graduated High School. Also Rax may or may not have gone to college. Depending on how good of an IQ that he has. As Rax passed college to have a few skills picked up from there. His aunt would help her nephew Acquire a spacious island across from Japan. A couple months in, Rax would work an endless amount of things to get a castle, lab & equipment built on the island.

{ -PRESENT - ORIGIN- }

Usually does research, engineering/build, casually travels places and probably through the universe.

POWERING KITSUNE

Race - Kitsune

Age - 700

Power - Fire, Lightning, Telekinesis & teleportation

Tail Count - 7

After Rax's 200 years of researching, tinkering, travelling, a few battles and keeping up intense training. He would respond to a call to visit his mother. As he would be informed on his kitsune genes. After words, he would test & practice his abilities in a local dojo. Along with taking a 500 year isolated trip to a different part of the galaxy. Which was at the edge of space sorta, in which time works differently. As he would land on an inhabitable planet to start camping there. Along with extra intense training, meditation, & other things to do on the planet. After the 500 years have gone by, he would soon return back to Earth. To relax back at home & drink for a while. To then rest for the remainder. Until he would recover from exhaustion.

PREVENTION STAGE

THE CYBORG/ANIMATRONIC

Origin - This will only happen when Rax takes a very close to death. In which he would be unable to stay in his damaged corpse. As he, his energy & his organs would be placed into a cyborg-like body. As it will be his only thing to live longer. Although his new body is like any other cyborgs/animatronics. But he has his vital & impossible organs inside his body. Along with his brain being stored in his exoskeleton.
