

See You Tomorrow Posts

Consistency matters in church communication—but that doesn't mean you have to come up with something brand new every week. These pre-written "See You Tomorrow" posts are designed to help your team build anticipation and encourage engagement each Saturday, without having to reinvent the wheel.

We've included a mix of general reminders, scripture-based invitations, and Communion-specific options. Simply pair them with a relevant image (like your worship space, a welcome sign, or a smiling greeter), and post on Saturday afternoons to remind your congregation—and your community—that something meaningful is happening tomorrow.

You'll find enough posts here to cycle through quarterly, keeping things fresh while reinforcing a weekly rhythm of worship.

Generic

The coffee will be brewing, and we will be ready for you. Join us for worship tomorrow. {click for sample image}

We'd be so glad to have you join us for worship tomorrow. [your service times] at [church location].

We exist to [insert your mission statement]. Worship with us tomorrow at [your service times].

We're all set up and ready for you! Join us tomorrow as we worship together. {Use with a photo of seats, or stage, or something you'd set up in your building.}

We have a seat prepared for you. Join us tomorrow at [your service times] as we worship the Savior together. {Use with a close up photo of your seats.}

We are praying for the presence of the Lord to join us in this place tomorrow. Join us at [your service times] at [your location] for worship!

Imperfect people gathering to worship a perfect God. We hope you'll join us tomorrow for worship.

Matthew 18:20 says, "For where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I among them." Join us as we gather for worship tomorrow.

No matter what you're going through, the Lord is willing to meet with you. Join us tomorrow for worship.

You are invited to experience the presence of the LORD! Join us for worship tomorrow.

The band has rehearsed, the pastor has prepared his sermon, and the children's ministry is all set up...we hope you'll join us tomorrow at [your location] for church!

Taste and see that the LORD is good. (Psalm 34:8) Join us for worship tomorrow.

Communion Weeks

Tomorrow is Communion Sunday. Join us as we worship the Savior. {sample image}

The bread and the cup is prepared. Join with us as we commune together in worship.

Jesus said, "Do this in remembrance of me." Join us tomorrow as we experience communion together.

Conclusion

A simple Saturday post can go a long way in helping someone take their next step toward showing up on Sunday. Whether it's a longtime member who needs the nudge or a first-time visitor scrolling by at the right moment, these reminders help create a welcoming and expectant culture in your church.

Schedule them ahead, mix and match images, and don't be afraid to personalize the language to fit your voice. However you use them, we hope they serve you well as you invite people to gather, worship, and meet with the Lord.