

Strategy Creation Level 1 - Defining Objectives

TRW USER NAME : koussaimi

Type of trading :

I've decided to be a Momentum Trader because I believe it suits my personality well and will be easier for me to stick to. I feel like there will be less pressure with this approach, and I'm confident I can follow it effectively.

Time availability :

I will focus primarily on swing trading because I prefer not to trade on such a tight time frame, knowing that I have more than 5h to spend on trading but Constantly monitoring stocks every second is not my style, and my account size does not allow for frequent day trading. However, I am open to some long-term investments. I have the patience for it, and it goes with a big picture mentality.

Asset class :

Stocks I choose stocks because my religion (islam) doesn't accept other asset classes and I'm comfortable with it too. After spending time analyzing stock charts in the market, I now feel accustomed to it.

Risk tolerance :

I'm currently young and without a source of income. At the moment, all I have is $500. Given my circumstances, I don't feel comfortable with excessively high-risk investments.