

Oxygen for Oxymoron

Type: Default

Prerequisites: None

Acquisition

This quest begins by questing the vent in the sports wing.

Walkthrough

You notice that there seems to be something dark in the vent, and you need to remove the grill to get a better look at it.

In order to do this, you must extract the monkey wrench from "Bayonets & Etiquettes" — a book acquired by interacting with the bookshelf in the homeroom.

Once you have it in your inventory, interact with all eleven shoes in the sports wing to make a pile of shoes and climb to the vent. Then, use the monkey wrench to open it — you'll gain a grappling hook.

Go back to the homeroom and use the monkey wrench this time to dismantle the globe. Throw your newly acquired globe on the basketball hoop, and you'll notice that one of the bolts came loose.

However, it is so greasy and slippery that you must first combine it with a tissue from the box found in your bathroom.

Once you have a clean bolt, you can now use it to jam the homeroom window's lock mechanism. This allows you to open the window (imagination required) and attach the grappling hook to it.

Climbing the rope will give you access to Maxine's clubroom. She then asks if you just grapple-hooked your way in through the window and complains about the lack of security when using non-popcorn products on the popcorn dispenser, before going back to doing whatever it is she usually does.

Consequences

Completing this quest unlocks the clubroom, allowing you to start Hide and Seek, Strawberries, Cherries and The Glowing Spider Eggs.
