Privacy Policy for Instant Currency Converter

Effective Date: 02/10/2025

1. Introduction

Welcome to Instant Currency Converter, a Chrome extension that allows users to convert currencies in real-time using a simple and efficient pop-up interface. This privacy policy explains what information we collect, how we use it, and the steps we take to protect user privacy.

2. Information We Collect

We do not collect, store, or share any personal data. The extension operates entirely within your browser and does not send any information to external servers.

3. Permissions & Justifications

Instant Currency Converter requires the following Chrome permissions to function properly:

- Storage – Used to save extension settings for user preferences (e.g., last used currencies).
- ActiveTab – Allows the extension to function properly within the current tab when opened.

We do not use these permissions to track, store, or transmit any user data.

4. Third-Party Services

Instant Currency Converter does not use any third-party services, analytics tools, or external APIs that track or store user data. The extension fetches exchange rates from ExchangeRate-API but does not transmit any user information to third parties.

5. How We Protect Your Data

Since Instant Currency Converter does not collect or store any personal data, there is no risk of data leakage or unauthorized access. The extension runs locally within your browser and does not modify website content.

6. Children's Privacy

Instant Currency Converter is not intended for children under 13, and we do not knowingly collect any information from children.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this privacy policy from time to time. Any changes will be reflected in this document, and we encourage users to review it periodically.
