

Coaching Contract

Between Coach Greg Reinauer & Client Name

Signed and dated below

My role as a coach is to support you to:

1. See and discover who you really are and what holds meaning and purpose for you.
2. Take authentic action consistently and move past your personal stopping points.
3. Create and score extraordinary goals you love, with clarity, focus, ease, and grace.

Your role as a client is to:

1. Be an engaged, willing partner with your coach.
2. Be willing to look at things in a new way.
3. Take action to meet the goals you have promised.
4. Bring something to each session that you'd like support on.

Note: A coach is not a counselor, consultant or advisor; a coach can help you clarify whether to seek counsel, consultation, or advice. A coach is not a therapist; a coach can support you in seeing if there is healing that could be addressed by visiting a mental health professional.
