Beneficiary group

Form of altruism

	Existing humans	Existing non-humans	Future humans	Future non-humans
Meliorism	GiveDirectly, SCI	Factory farm reform	See Carl's original position/potential people post.	PETRL
Anti-mortalism	AMF, life extension	Veterinary stuff?	x-risks, ALLFED (alternative foods)	Life extension; exotic physics, philosophy, and anthropics research (search "Do you have a shot at immortality")
Pro-mortalism	Right to die, euthanasia	Animal euthanasia	Euthanasia?	Euthanasia?
Pro-natalism	Selfish Reasons to Have More Kids	?	x-risks	Hansonian Malthusian competitive scenario (see especially Carl's comment)
Anti-natalism	Negative eugenics, VHEMT	Lawn disruption and other destruction of nature	Brian Tomasik's suggestion that we shouldn't try to recover from a global catastrophe	Not running ancestor simulations?

For "beneficiary group", see https://causeprioritization.org/Beneficiary_group. Each of the listed beneficiary groups can be broken down into more granular groups.

For "form of altruism", see http://jiwoonhwang.org/there-are-basically-five-forms-of-purported-altruisms/.

It might make sense to break down meliorism into (1) increasing happiness/pleasure/good things and (2) reducing suffering/urges/bad things.
