

- Postsecondary Education Programs (including some that are Comprehensive Transition Programs for students with an Intellectual Disability) in Central Texas and beyond:
 - Think College
 - Links to an external site.
 - is a national technical assistance, research, and evaluation center dedicated to developing, expanding, and improving higher education options for students with intellectual disabilities.
 - They have a great website that provides one with the ability to search for 325 postsecondary education programs nationwide for students with an intellectual disability (some of which also admit other persons with or without disabilities):
<https://thinkcollege.net/college-search>
 - Links to an external site.
 - .
 - Here are some of the postsecondary education programs for persons with an intellectual and/or developmental disability in Central Texas and beyond that may be worth sharing information about with staff/students/families:
 - Austin Community College's STEPS program (Austin, TX) (for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities, Summer 2024 registration should be open now):
<https://continue.austincc.edu/steps>
 - Links to an external site.
 - .
 - Aggie Achieve (College Station, TX) (comprehensive transition program that supports career development and provides a Certificate in Interdisciplinary Studies from Texas A&M for those who complete four years of the program, applications typically need to be submitted in the Fall before December 1st):
<https://aggieachieve.tamu.edu/>
 - Links to an external site.
 - .
 - Bobcat RISE (San Marcos, TX) (Texas State University's four-year residential inclusive postsecondary education program for students with intellectual and developmental disabilities, applications typically need to be submitted in the Fall for starting the next Fall semester):

<https://www.education.txst.edu/departments/obcat-rise.html>

- Links to an external site.

- .

- E4 Texas (Austin, TX) (post-secondary opportunity through the University of Texas open for people with or without a disability. Provides a three-semester experience that combines classroom instruction with practical career building experiences, independent living skills, and self-determination, with applications typically being considered between October and January):

<https://disabilitystudies.utexas.edu/e4texas>

- Links to an external site.

- .

- HOPS Program (College Station, TX) (a two semester training program with a purpose to provide instruction and support individuals with disabilities to gain the necessary skills and experiences in work readiness in order to successfully transition into competitive integrated employment in the horticulture industry through taking specially designed classes on the campus of Texas A&M University, applications are due by March 15, 2024):

<https://cdd.tamu.edu/education/hops-program/>

- .

- Links to an external site.

- .

- PATHS Certificate Program (College Station, TX) (two-year inclusive certificate program at Texas A&M open to persons with or without a disability that prepares graduates for employment in a career serving people with disabilities or working with children, application window closes on March 1, 2024):

<https://paths.tamu.edu/>.

- Links to an external site.

■

- TU CASA (San Antonio, TX) (18-month comprehensive transition program at Texas A&M University- San Antonio for persons with an intellectual disability that provides inclusive post secondary education opportunities with a University and Career Experience Certificate being obtained upon program completion, support for integrated employment throughout, and the development of independent living skills through a person-centered approach, applications for Summer 2024 are still being accepted per their admissions website):
<https://www.tamusa.edu/academics/tu-casa/index.html>

- Links to an external site.

■ .