Includes research design, population and sample, development of research instruments, data collection techniques, and data analysis techniques, which are described briefly. (Justify, Times New Roman, 11, Singel-Spaced)

Conclusions (Justify, Times New Roman, Bold, UPPERCASE, 11)

A summary description of the discussion of research results, but still refers to the research objectives and hypotheses, not a summary of the results of calculations or statistical testing. BIBLIOGRAPHY (Justify, Times New Roman, Bold, UPPERCASE, 11)

It is highly recommended to use standard citation tool (Mendeley) for Bibliography. Bibliography must contain the entirety of the reference sources referenced in the text. Bibliography or reference list consists of 80% primary references (national and international scientific journals) and 20% secondary references (relevant text books). The degree of updated literature referred to is the last 10 years, relevant classical works can be referred to as the source of the problem but not for comparison discussions. Bibliography writing follows generally accepted references. Bibliography should be sorted alphabetically according to the author's last name (without academic degree) or the name of the institution with reference to the Harvard style. The arrangement of each bibliography: author name, year of publication, title of article or book name, name of journal or publisher, page number. Journal names should not be abbreviated
