

LESSON PLAN

Week of: April 20th-24th

Class: Reading- Blue Group (Kyree, Konner, Marcus, David, Izzy)

Topic/Assignment Name: Novel Study: Prisoner B-3087 By Alan Gratz

Lesson Activities

Objective/Goal: Continue reading Prisoner B-3087- Focus on Comprehension

*Please keep in mind that this book may be violent in some sections. We read books like these to remember and honor those that were killed, and to make sure we do not allow this type of hatred to be seen again.

Activity/Outline:

NOTE:

1. Due to technical issues I was not able to record the reading myself. I have provided links to listen to each chapter on youtube. The reading is not the best, but follow along as much as possible.
2. Due to a lack of response in google forms I am going to be attaching the questions via a word document- Students may either:
 - a. Open a google doc and simply number their problems and put the letter answer- Need to make sure to title each section of questions based on chapter
 - b. Print off the attached document and email it back (via picture or scan) or drop it off at the school.
 - c. Pick up and return the packet to the school

a. An Acrostic is when you use the letter given to create a sentence or a word that relates to what you are reading. Those first letters create one word- In this case you are using the word SURVIVAL

- b. You are going to write out an acrostic for Prisoner B-3087.
Remember that each line must start with the letter that is given in the box on the left.
- c. Each detail needs to tell about an event Yanek has experienced or tell about one of his personality traits. Example: S- Smart
- d. Look at the following pictures for examples of acrostics:

E. Friday: Finish Assignments & I-Ready

1. Finish your chapter questions and point of view assignment if you have not completed them.
2. If you have completed your work: Go to I-Ready and work on YOUR PATH
