

Tina, your business is ready for some copywriting magic!

I can tell you have big plans for your online presence from the value you provide in all your Instagram posts.

I have seen some improvements you can make to your emails, but it would be great if I could create something based on your individual requirements.

If you have an idea for improvements to your online presence, let me know...

Otherwise, if you are interested, I can create a small sample of my work in your emails and help you lead the nutrition industry with the value of your blogs.

If it's something that you would like to see, let me know.

Sincerely!
Alex
