3. Ķekava Youth Center JAUNU IDEJU CENTRS – 2 volunteers (10 to 11 months)

★ What and who?

1. Baltic Regional Fund (BRF) is an NGO in Riga dedicated to fostering civil society development, social inclusion, and intercultural dialogue through non-formal education. It primarily serves youth, including those from social risk groups, by implementing local and international projects focused on soft skills, personal and professional development. As a central component of its youth work, the foundation has a Youth Studio BaMbus, which is a multifunctional and progressive space in Riga providing a safe environment for young people to learn and grow.

As a volunteer, you will be actively involved in the daily life of BRF and #jsBaMbus, supporting ongoing activities and helping to organise events, community activities, workshops and information campaigns on topics relevant to young people and to you, like art, book, language or sports clubs, as well as activities on EU values and youth opportunities. You will have the chance to develop your own initiatives and explore different cultures. A part of the volunteer work will be the creation and publication of social media content for the youth studio.

We would be especially glad if you enjoy working in a team, communicating with young people and contributing to a creative environment. Interest in photography, video filming or editing, social media communication, and organising events would be a great advantage, as these skills can be used in many of our activities. If you feel confident leading workshops or trying out new ideas with youngsters in our youth studio, you will have plenty of opportunities to do so and to grow your abilities along the way.

The working language will be English.

2. Riga Youth Centres KANIERIS and KALNCIEMA STUDIJA support young people and youth organisations by offering free spaces, resources and guidance for non-formal education activities and youth initiatives. It provides rooms for events, advises young people on implementing their ideas and participating in European programmes, offers training for those involved in youth work, and collaborates with schools and other youth-sector partners. Young people can organise and join workshops, discussions, game and movie nights, sports activities and events on topics such as art, climate, LGBTQ+, participation, travel, media literacy and cultural diversity.

Together with the team volunteers will be involved in planning interactive activities for young people, finding ways of telling young people about local and European opportunities, and doing social media work.

3. Ķekava Youth Center JAUNU IDEJU CENTRS is an open, creative and non-formal learning space for young people in the Ķekava region, next to Riga. It provides daily activities, workshops, events and opportunities for young people to develop their skills, express themselves and participate in community life.

Volunteers together with youth workers will plan, organise and lead non-formal educational activities like cultural evenings, creative workshops, board games and activities promoting EU values for young people aged 12–25 in Ķekava county while helping to maintain a positive and inclusive environment. Volunteers will also collaborate with local youth to create social media content that highlights upcoming activities and strengthens communication.

The project seeks two motivated volunteers who enjoy planning activities, sharing their culture, creating social media content and collaborating with youth workers. It is ideal for creative, self-driven young people who want hands-on experience in youth work and the freedom to develop their own initiatives.
