

Fractions of Infinity

by Skipperdoodle Productions

We are fractions of infinity,
Offspring of the Most High.
Inheritors of all that is,
Let us strive to greatness.
Sound daunting?
All that's really lacking to fulfill the Above
Is to respond to all with love.
Now, back to daunting?
'Tis all in the training.
Early, consistent, never-ending Love is all it takes.
Being trained for violence, for struggle, we pray it can be done.
Let us hope that, of the two, nurture is the One.
Evil is not inherent to our bones.
Let us look to the institutions that shape our demeanor.
Family first, then educational, physical, and spiritual.
The people leading those, let's start there.
Our source is Divine.
It can and will be done.
