

"I can" Statements
I can apply properties of operations to add, subtract, factor and expand linear expressions with rational coefficients.
I can combine like terms to factor and expand linear expressions with rational coefficients using the distributive property,
I can use properties of operations to write equivalent expressions.
I can rewrite an expression in a different form if needed.