UMBC SOCIAL WORK

BRINGING BACK THE BROWN BAGS

STARTING FALL 2024

UMBC Social Work is planning to bring back Brown Bag Discussions starting Fall 2024, and we want to provide presentations from School of Social Work faculty and community organizations/agencies. We endeavor to provide engaging, interactive, student-centered discussions, with presentations on topics that are of great interest to our students. If you are an interested presenter, see the sign-up link below, which also includes a list of student interests. Hopefully, you will find something that aligns with your own interests, and we look forward to hearing from you!

What We'd Love to See:

- 30-minute, informal discussion related to your research and its application to social work/real world contexts (including an activity/engaging component)
- Relating your work to student interests
- Possible joint presentations between faculty and students (optional)
