

TKAM Chapter 14 HW

HW:

1. Read chapter 14
2. Complete the CP or H homework

CP: Support the following claim with one ES and several sentences of analysis/explanation:

There are differences between Scout's relationship with her family and Dill's relationship with his family.

H: Jem, Scout and Dill start as innocent, carefree children who begin to lose their purity as they grow up and start to understand the real world. As you read Chapter 14, look for evidence that the children are growing up and beginning to understand the world around them. Choose one character (Scout, Dill, or Jem) and describe his/her struggles in regards to growing up citing at least 2 pieces of textual evidence. Use ES format. Include analysis/explanation of how the ES shows his/her struggles.

TKAM Chapter 14 HW

HW:

3. Read chapter 14
4. Complete the CP or H homework

CP: Support the following claim with one ES and several sentences of analysis/explanation:

There are differences between Scout's relationship with her family and Dill's relationship with his family.

H: Jem, Scout and Dill start as innocent, carefree children who begin to lose their purity as they grow up and start to understand the real world. As you read Chapter 14, look for evidence that the children are growing up and beginning to understand the world around them. Choose one character (Scout, Dill, or Jem) and describe his/her struggles in regards to growing up citing at least 2 pieces of textual evidence. Use ES format. Include analysis/explanation of how the ES shows his/her struggles.

TKAM Chapter 14 HW

HW:

5. Read chapter 14
6. Complete the CP or H homework

CP: Support the following claim with one ES and several sentences of analysis/explanation:

There are differences between Scout's relationship with her family and Dill's relationship with his family.

H: Jem, Scout and Dill start as innocent, carefree children who begin to lose their purity as they grow up and start to understand the real world. As you read Chapter 14, look for evidence that the children are growing up and beginning to understand the world around them. Choose one character (Scout, Dill, or Jem) and describe his/her struggles in regards to growing up citing at least 2 pieces of textual evidence. Use ES format. Include analysis/explanation of how the ES shows his/her struggles.

TKAM Chapter 14 HW

HW:

7. Read chapter 14
8. Complete the CP or H homework

CP: Support the following claim with one ES and several sentences of analysis/explanation:

There are differences between Scout's relationship with her family and Dill's relationship with his family.

H: Jem, Scout and Dill start as innocent, carefree children who begin to lose their purity as they grow up and start to understand the real world. As you read Chapter 14, look for evidence that the children are growing up and beginning to understand the world around them. Choose one character (Scout, Dill, or Jem) and describe his/her struggles in regards to growing up citing at least 2 pieces of textual evidence. Use ES format. Include analysis/explanation of how the ES shows his/her struggles.