

Finish Unit 9 - Gas Laws

There are videos on all the notes leading up to this week and also videos made for the last few topics for this week. When we last met on Friday 3/13, you took a quiz and also were supposed to watch Video Lesson 02 - Ideal Gas Law. Here is what needs to be done this week:

- Rewatch the ideal gas law video
- Do the Ideal Gas Law Practice WS and submit on Schoology (in the HW dump spot) Answers Posted
- Watch the Gas Law Stoich Video
- Do the Gas Law Stoich WS and submit on Schoology (in the HW dump spot) Answers Posted
- Do the Gas Law End of Unit Review assignment (on schoology) for HW points
- Take the Unit 9 Test. The window to take the test will open on Saturday (4/4) morning at 7:25am and stay open until Monday (4/6) until 11:59pm. The test is open notes but is to be done individually. You may not use anyone or anything besides your notes to take the test. It is designed to be taken in 45 minutes, but everyone will get 90 minutes to take the test. After 90 minutes, your test will be submitted. If you don't have it done by Monday at 11:59pm, I will be calling home on Tuesday to have a conversation.

Suggested Timing

- Monday - Get your feet wet with this online school thing. Watch some old videos from Unit 9.
- Tuesday - Review Ideal Gas Law video and do the problems. Submit on schoology
- Wednesday - Watch the gas law stoich video and try the problems.
- Thursday - Tune into Mr. Kalmi's Zoom at 9:30am to ask questions about gas law stoich (more details on that in a Schoology Update later this week). Finish the gas law stoich WS and submit to schoology.
- Friday - Do the End of Unit Review (3 attempts)
- Saturday Starting at 7:25am until Monday at 11:59pm - Take the test

Other Notes:

- Next chapter - Solution Chemistry
- Gradebook has been reweighted to emphasize homework all of the learning will be done from home, you are expected to do or try EVERY worksheet and practice set of problems. They will all go towards this part in the gradebook. Daily work and quizzes are now one category and worth 40% of your grade Tests are 50% and the final is 10%.
- All tests are open notes as long as we are doing distance learning. You can use anything you write down to use on a test, but all tests will be completed in 90 minutes. They are designed to be done in 45 minutes, but everybody gets 90 minutes so no extra time will be necessary for anyone with an IEP or 504 plan. You can use your notes, but you cannot talk with another other person (including students in other classes/honors/AP, etc) in order to complete the test. You can only use your notes.
