Fertility Access UK Parliamentary Drop-In 4th November 2025

Dear [Your MP's name],

Come and meet the experts and patients driving the #CheckHimToo campaign which is focussed on improving preventative intervention for male fertility and raise awareness of the fact that fertility issues affect men too - this isn't a female-only diagnosis.

Date: 4th November 2025

Time: 12PM to 2PM

Venue: Room U, Portcullis House, Westminster

- Only 27% of IVF cycles were NHS-funded in 2022, dropping by 13% in a decade, while ICBs have reduced treatment cycles this year from 3 cycles to just 1.
- Fertility is on the decline, yet more than 80% of GPs say they have received no education in assessment and treatment. Testing and preliminary diagnosis at primary care level could have a positive impact overall.

Attendees will include:

- Katie Rollings Fertility Access & #CheckHimToo Campaign, Founder of Fertility Action charity.
- Dr Anand Patel Specialist in Men's Health & Medical Education and chair of the Royal College of General Practitioners men's health conference.
- Mr. James Nicopoulos Consultant Gynaecologist and Subspecialist in Reproductive Medicine and Surgery, is the Clinical Director.
- Dr. Carole Gilling-Smith CEO & Medical Director at The Agora Clinic, Consultant Obstetrician and Gynaecologist and renowned fertility expert.
- Emma Whitney Director of Embryology & Genetics at The Evewell
- Becky Kearns & Natalie Silverman from the Fertility Matters At Work campaign.
- Laura-Rose Thorogood, from the Fertility Justice Campaign.
- Ian Stones from Test Him / #CheckHimToo Campaign

If you wish to attend, please RSVP to: katie@fertilityaction.org

Kind regards,
