- San Gabriel school: 12 team members for the cast (11-20 years old)

Taking them outside of their classes to work on the common project once per month.

Criteria for the project is continuity and also curriculum integrated. And also using english for the productions of the videos.

Studio: croma, ipads and lights

- August Treboniu Laurian: 29 team members for the cast (11-18 years old)

investing in material: buying material

Idea of establishing a relationship between the students with video conferences or sending messages.

Ownership of the program: is students'. And they have to work together.

They could meet to talk about the topic of the program, or there may be more than one topic per program. They may have an editorial boarding. And each school may pick one or two members to be spokespersons.

Criteria for the project is communication between the students.

What unites and what separates them in the European dimension?

Climate change!

We create a framework for them to work on and they add the content. Students start with preparing a video and then shares it with the other members until they have the final product.

Create criteria to prepare news.

29th of May

Bias School Tv channel:

- 5 seconds introduction video for a competition, adding the logo. Competition with videos between the members. Deadline to present the videos will be end of September.
- There will be just one video per month for the “live session”.
- Target of the tv Channel: for the students first/ for the parents, and then other teachers
- In September each school prepares a draft video introducing themselves and how they start the project (3 minutes length, what do you think will be the benefits of this project, their expectations on the project, close-ups,), sharing the video and meeting to talk about the editing and the final product. the final product will be a 4th video. Create a Google Classroom and we invite the students from all the countries to join.
- Mt is in charge of the web management
- Students are the owners of the channel and the content, but supervised
- First topic:

Framework:

- length of the video, content that they should add, target of the video,

Evaluation:

items: communication skills, speaking abilities, reading comprehension, writing, a general one for competences
