

Jesus, the embodiment of God, the light to our dark.
He's God, through flesh and through blood.
On Christmas he was born, a stable he was in.
Inside a manger he resided, given birth by his mother, Mary

Jesus is the son of Mary and the son of God
Jesus is our holy saviour, the light of the world.
Jesus cleanses our sins and loves all of us.
Jesus is the embodiment of Christ, and through this he helps us all.

For our own lord who started in his mothers womb.
He spread his teachings to others all around
He cleansed our sins too and guided us all
But some didn't listen and he was put on deaf ears

For those that followed his teachings and were his disciples would live with him
But for those who disregarded his words would reside without him
For Jesus is the light and for those who don't follow
Will only live in eternal darkness
