

2nd Grade Weekly Newsletter

Week of 4/13/20

| Reading                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Writing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Math                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Science/Social Studies                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Please read at least 20 minutes a day.You can read your own book or go to Epic! to read. Complete one activity a day with a non-fiction text.  The 'Non-Fiction 1' activity grid contains 15 tasks in a 3x5 grid, each with an icon and a description of a non-fiction activity for students to complete. | Poetry - Parody &amp; Bio Poems <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Watch Parody Poem video and create your own Parody Poem.</li> <li>2. Watch Bio Poem video and create your own Bio Poem.</li> </ol> | Chapter 19 Shapes and Patterns <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Watch Brain Pop Jr. on Solid Shapes.</li> <li>2. Watch Lesson 2 video.</li> <li>3. Create an animal out of solid shapes. You can build it or draw it!</li> <li>4. Complete Quizizz about solid shapes on google classroom.</li> <li>5. Free choice!Extra PracticeMobyMax (on Clever)ProdigyGreg Tang</li> </ol> | Wind and Water Change the Earth <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Watch video on Mystery Science (click on I'm a Student).</li> <li>2. Read Weathering and Erosion on Readworks.org then answer the questions.</li> <li>3. Read over Slides: Unit 10 Slides</li> <li>4. Complete workbook pages on google classroom. When you are finished, click turn in.</li> </ol> |

|           | Reading                                                                                                                                                                                | Writing                                                                                                                                              | Math                                                                                                                                        | Science                                                                                                 |
|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Monday    | Please read at least 20 minutes a day. You can read your own book or go to Epic! to read. Complete one activity with a non-fiction text. | Go to Google Classroom and watch the Parody Poem Video .                                                                             | Watch Brain Pop Jr. on Solid Shapes.                                                                                        | Watch video on Mystery Science (click on I'm a Student).                                |
| Tuesday   | Complete one activity with a non-fiction text. Readworks article can count as your 20 minutes!                                                                         | Create your own Parody poetry. Share with me on classroom, through email or Remind. If you want, you can video yourself saying/singing your poem! :) | Watch Lesson 2 Video .                                                                                                      | Read Weathering and Erosion on Readworks.org then answer the questions. |
| Wednesday | Complete one activity with a non-fiction text.                                                                                                                         | Go to Google Classroom at watch Bio Poem video .                                                                                     | Create an animal out of solid shapes . You can build it or draw it!                                                         | Read over Slides: Unit 10 Slides                                                        |
| Thursday  | Complete one activity with a non-fiction text.                                                                                                                         | Create your own Bio Poem and share with me on classroom, through email or Remind!                                                                    | Complete Quizizz about solid shapes on google classroom.                                                                    | Complete workbook pages on google classroom. When you are finished, click turn in.      |
| Friday    | Complete one activity with a non-fiction text.                                                                                                                         | Free Write Friday!Ideas if you are stuck.                                                                                 | Free Choice Friday!Extra PracticeMobyMax (on Clever)ProdigyGreg Tang | Finish Student Workbook Page .                                                          |