I love the news, it's very good and very necessary. Nobody loves the press more than me. But I saw a news article, and it's a no good news Article by Nam_69_Reenactor.

I read this, and I think, "This is no good, plainly evil article". I talk to people all day, and all day what they say is that they want the NSA advisor position to be senate appointed. It's all they say, all day. I tell them, I'll get it done, but that's not enough. They tell me it's an issue for them. We see the Republicans every day wanting to install 1984, and I think the senate should approve the National Security Advisor. It's very well known that most Radical Republicans want 1984, they want big brother, they want your television to spy on you. We know the government will use national security, maybe even lie about it, to get more power. I want the senate to be able to make sure there's not a no good radical republican, we want someone who tells it like it is. I don't think the current NSA would lie, but the senate should be able to confirm. I love the senate, when they're dems, they're usually level headed and very good, very fine people that do what's right for Americans, not what the Russians or Chinese want.

I love Atlantic. They made the right choice during the presidential election, a very good choice, but it's a shame the majority of the country didn't. Ask anyone on the street, they all know Atlantic is going to be blue. They'll tell you it's the most simplest fact in the world, that's because they're right, you know. Atlanticans are tired of the far right Republicans in office. They all say to me, "Why haven't you stopped the radical Adith administration or the Nam campaign", and I'll be honest with you folks, it makes me sad. They're saying Atlantic is going blue. Not just the fancy political analysts in their high office, you know who I'm talking about, but anyone. They know the Democrats are here to stop the radical Republicans burning this country to the ground. That's why they tell me in the street they love me. They want me to kiss their babies, all that jazz. We're getting ready to win these elections. We will win these elections. We will vote out the republicrooks.

(this is essentially a statement so marking it as such)
