

Summer 2022 Call for Authors and Editors

The Encyclopedia of Greater Philadelphia seeks authors to write essays on the following topics, which will be published online and considered for publication in prospective print volumes. For all essays, the scope of coverage will be foremost Philadelphia and the nearby region, including southeastern Pennsylvania, South Jersey, and northern Delaware.

Prospective authors should have publications or other demonstrated expertise in their subjects. To express interest, email the editors listed below and describe your qualifications for the topic. Graduate students, please include the name of an academic reference.

Topics available for assignment (XX indicates taken; ?? indicates an assignment is under discussion but additional inquiries are welcome).

For the following, contact Charlene Mires, cmires@camden.rutgers.edu

XX Black Lives Matter
Civil Rights (People with Disabilities)
Philadelphia in Fiction
?? Postal Service

For the following, contact Andrew Heath, a.d.heath@sheffield.ac.uk

XX The Americas (Philadelphia region's interaction with goods, ideas, and people)

Immigration/Migration topics:

Sanctuary Movement
Ukrainians and Ukraine
Upper Darby
Washington Avenue

Environment topics:

?? Fire

Networks of Knowledge, Service and Activism topics:

American School of Economics
Black Nationalism
Colleges and Universities

Commerce, Labor, and Industry topics:

XX AFL-CIO
XX Port of Philadelphia
?? Iron and Steel

For the following, contact Randall Miller, miller@sju.edu

XX Protestantism
XX Buddhism
Hinduism