

DQRP ACT 1 RECAP:

The Dairy Queen (Kermit, @liveclockluvbot) had recently created their Dairy Monarchy, with their Dairy Knight (T'erry @LavenderSharpie) and other Dairy Royalty (undisclosed). While a new monarchy, it was corrupt in many ways. After a while, one of its citizens, Eros (@arsonblade) was sick of the corruptness of the monarchy, and called for a rebellion to start. They marched into the DQ castle, challenged the Dairy Queen's authority, before leaving to prepare.

"You think you can take down my monarchy? We are more powerful than you'll ever be."
"This isn't my first rebellion, DQ! No matter what, I will not stand for monarchy no longer!"
"It may not be your first, but it will certainly be your last."

As days dragged on, Eros had convinced and rallied a small group of people to fight in this rebellion against the monarchy. Allie (@bagel_thefirst), their second-in-command, Kat (@KissuKat), a longtime friend, Rain (@bunnybizzles), Pixel (@StegaKitty) and Arthur (@spiralled_away), plus more (undisclosed).
There, weapons were handed out, and the fight against the monarchy began.

A long battle, it was, and almost seemed unserious in times. However, everything had changed, when Allie had lit the DQ on fire.

Inside, Kermit, the Dairy Queen, had fallen, along with many others. Allie had slowly begun to spiral into insanity, as Eros watched on.

"We.. we did it.. Right? Right... we.. we did it.."
"HAHAHAha.. HHAHAA! Yes.. Yes we. we did. We're the heroes, Eros! .. Who.. who am I!?"
"You're... You're Allie.. R-right..?"
"Hahah.."
"A-allie...?"

Eros, unable to cope with the sudden change in mood with this entire rebellion, slowly spiralled into insanity as they faced their own internal conflict, whether this arson was the right thing to do, and how they'll be heroes.. Or if this was all wrong.

Due to some convincing from Rain and unfortunate run ins with the ghost of Kermit, Eros had gone completely unhinged, always laughing, always claiming to be right.

Kat, not wanting to watch this go on, confronted Eros, where an argument took place, and Kat betrayed the rebellion, refusing to side with people who wanted nothing but arson and destruction.

"This isn't what you wanted, Eros! Why can't you see that!"
"HAHAHA.. HAHA YOU WERE NEVER ON MY SIDE IN THE FIRST PLACE! KAT! YOU NEVER WERE!"

There, K'ai (@kaisastupidhead), had appeared, and seemingly sided with the rebellion. Kermit's ghost watched on. T'erry, during this time, had betrayed the Monarchy in favour of the rebellion, realising the corrupt nature of the DQ Monarchy.

After a long conversation between Eros and Allie. A meeting between all the rebellion members was called.

There, Eros, Allie, K'ai, T'erry, Rain, Pixel and Arthur all appeared, and that's where it all went down.

First, there were discussions of shelter, and how the arsonists should all protect themselves from the oncoming rain and wind, vague ideas thrown out, but nothing was set in stone.

Then, discussions of T'erry's current standing, and if he was secretly a spy for the Monarchy, after being observed communicating with Kermit's ghost, Rain told him to go on a mission, and that if he didn't complete it in an hour, he'd be... taken care of.

After all was said and done, Kat had made her appearance, desperately trying to convince at least one member of the rebellion to see their own corruption. When all attempts failed, she made one last effort at breaking up the rebellion, and killed Eros, the leader.

"I will not stand for this senseless violence, Don't you see that you've strayed from your goal?"

"HAHA WE HAVEN'T STRAYED FROM ANYTHING! THIS IS WHAT WE WANTED! WE'LL BE REMEMBERED AS HEROES!! FOREVER!"

"Eros, you know what they say.. An eye for an eye.. Or a life for the lives of many."

"Ahhha.. .. haha... I knew.. I knew it would come to this.. .."

In Eros' final moments, they claimed they'd be back, before passing. Allie lit a candle in remembrance for the fallen leader, before going to find shelter. K'ai had outed t'hemselves as a 'spy' for the Monarchy, saying that it was h'er job to kill Eros (and that said job was already done for them). Kat had fled the scene quickly after assassinating Eros. T'erry had to immediately go on his mission, or face death at the hands of Rain. Pixel, Arthur and Allie were all left in the rubble of the DQ.. and Kermit's ghost watched it all, still whispering to the rebellion.