

My Ghost Friend Fanfic: Accuracy on the Lore (Not really)

Idea: Bob gets kidnapped by Red corp as Susie tries to protect him from being held captive on the top of the floor.

Bob gets ready for his day and goes to work as usual, Elle asks who's Susie and he tells her she's his friend. Meanwhile at yellow Inc, Bob's dad, Max, is going through the usual. He is telling his secretary, Ivy, to find his son but she asks if her station is secret from everything because of what happened weeks ago. Max states that not a single person will vandalize her work without affecting their tight security. She nods towards Max and starts her research to find Bob. As that's happening, Elle calls her dad and asks if he has a Susie yet. Her dad still says that he doesn't know what a Susie is. Desperate now, she asks Bob again who's Susie and if she could meet her. Bob doesn't hear her and tries to grab his daily paycheck but Elle refuses to pay her. She asks her something before Bob leaves if she could hang out with her. Bob thinks about it for a bit and complies and lets her hang out at his place. As they make their way towards Bob's apartment, they take a pit stop for a drink, unaware about what's happening. They both chat about how they're doing and how life's going for them. They finish with their pit stop and arrive at Bob's place and meet Pumpkin the Spider, Fly, and finally Susie but she's busy at Lily's place. So, Bob and Elle wait for Susie to come back to Bob's place. Susie arrives back at Bob's place but gets surprised at Elle because she's never met anyone except for Bob and Lily. They both get along with one another as Bob watches across as they become good friends. Ivy starts to get tired from coffee and investigation as her trail to find Bob runs cold. Feeling desperate, she calls it a day and decides to go to a restaurant and decides to talk to one of the staff about her day. That's when she starts to get intrigued when they bring up the same guy. Bob works at this restaurant. Ivy starts to go the right path in finding Bob and reaching another step for glory to her boss. The next day, Ivy asks her boss, Max, if she could have a day off because she tells her that she found where Bob is working. Max is ecstatic about the news but doesn't express it and accepts her request. Ivy waits for the restaurant to open with Bob arriving early. Ivy makes her move and calls her boss about what's going on. Hours pass by as Bob is finished with his first job and cycles to his second job. Ivy follows him by car and finds out where he works his second job. Ivy spies on what's happening and sees Elle. The two chatter about their day with Ivy notifying Max. Bob finishes with his second job and leaves to go home. Ivy follows Bob but ends up getting too close to his bicycle and scares him away. Ivy gets infuriated and decides to leave, contemplating about what she's done, and decides to go home because it's getting late but finds Bob far from her and follows him again, leading her to his home. Bob gets ready to finish his day with Susie being the "housewife" of his apartment helping him get situated for bed. Meanwhile, Ivy maps out and takes note of Bob's location and goes back home to get ready for the next day, unaware that someone else was stalking her. As Ivy naps about glory and fame, and wanting to be Max's favorite secretary, someone quietly walks into Ivy's bedroom and takes Bob's location. The next day, Bob wakes up to find two businessmen in sunglasses telling him to get in the vehicle. Bob refuses but this leads to him getting kidnapped by the businessman and the boss of Red Corp. Susie is heartbroken about the situation like how O.J. Simpson was being detained in front of his family and their house. Feeling resentful for what just happened, she follows Red Corp to their location. There, Bob is held captive and there they send Max a video where they state that he will never get his family back. Susie is angered by Red Corp and goes back to his apartment to get help with Lily pink and her family but even with all of their help, their voice is silenced by Red Corp. Susie starts to get desperate and decides to reveal herself at Red Corp to save Bob against its boss. Bob is being brutally punished by pain and power from wardens but Susie tries to scare them into freeing him, but it's no help. They just laugh at her and she decides to go to yellow Inc to tell Max about everything and where he's being held. Max is shocked first of all, but eventually agrees with Susie in her plan to take down Red Corp. Susie, Max, and his staff reach Red Corp to ambush the building, as war breaks out between floors. The boss is notified about it but can't do anything about it because Max is now in the same room as the boss of Red Corp. A fight ensues as Bob and Susie reunite with one another and kiss. Max knocks out the boss and everyone escapes Red Corp. Max and Bob reunite like father and son and Max then tells him something, he wants his own son to succeed him in his business when he retires. Bob doesn't want to work in business because he wants to settle down with Susie. Max then tells Bob he will teach him and let him enjoy his life until it is time to take the position as CEO. Susie tells Bob that she'll be at his place. Meanwhile, Elle is wondering why Bob isn't showing up for his job. Bob takes the limo back to his home and waves goodbye to his dad. The day now goes on with his family in life.

END