

DEBJANI MUKHERJEE

A multi-award winning independent animation film-maker, researcher, design artist,

Debjani loves to explore and experiment with art as her medium. By profession, she is an independent animation filmmaker, illustrator, researcher and designer.

She graduated from the National Institute of Design(NID), Ahmedabad, in 2009. Presently she is pursuing PhD from IIT Bombay and her research topic is 'Indigenous Art Education: A case study of the Bhilartist community'.

Debjani is the co-founder of 'BOL-The language of Children'. BOL child is a non-profit organization that conducts Art Therapy and Arts in Education classes that create a platform for children to explore and express.

She has been invited to conduct animation/art workshops at international children's film festivals, book fairs, literature festivals and education conferences where she has presented her work with BOL Child apart from her individual work.

Email: bol.languageofchildren@gmail.com