

SERIENA.

GENERAL.

- this is a canon divergent, independent roleplay blog for serena van der woodsen of the gossip girl franchise.
- i am not exclusive to any fandom! i will write with almost any fandom and i greatly love writing with ocs, but please keep in mind that i am a mutually exclusive blog, meaning i will only write with mutuals.
- my header, icon psd base, and promo were made by the amazing isa at louvrecommissions! any other graphics used have been made by me unless credited otherwise; please don't take anything on this blog! i would also appreciate that my general visual aesthetics (psd, url, color scheme, icons, etc.) not be taken either, as i've worked hard on creating a specific aesthetic for my interpretation of serena.

CONTENT.

- my interpretation of serena will be based on an amalgamation of her available sources, both show and book. however, with that said, it's important to note that i will be picking and choosing what i like from those sources and will be incorporating those things into serena's character. importantly, anything past mid season 4 (directly after the juliet gaslighting situation, including her dating ben) is NOT canon on this blog. this all means that my portrayal will be very canon divergent, so if that's not your cup of tea, you probably shouldn't follow.
- because my interpretation is not entirely canon compliant, any and all of the writing and headcanons on this blog will be pretty unique to serena and her character, so please don't use anything on it as inspiration without asking first.
- mun and muse are both 21+, so this blog has the potential to be nsfw; i will tag nsfw and main triggers, but if there's something you'd like to be tagged that i missed, please don't hesitate to shoot me a message.
- as far as romantic ships go, i'm open to anything as long as there's chemistry and mun/muse are both of age, meaning multishipping will most likely be present. with that said, i am ship exclusive and i will only (romantic) ship with one portrayal of a character; i would hope the courtesy be extended both ways as well.
- i am completely open to pre-established relationships and establishing mains or exclusives; shoot me an ask or dm and i'd totally be up for discussing something with you!

AUTHOR.

- i don't tolerate any bigotry or abuse of any kind. i will call it out/support call out posts if i see them on my dash and will talk about social issues unrelated to rp on here, so if any of that bothers you, you probably shouldn't follow me.
- i will not be following or interacting with any blogs using johnny depp, jeremy renner, robert downey jr, hailee steinfeld, chris pratt, zoe saldana, rosario dawson, dave bautista, gal gadot, brenton thwaites, elizabeth olsen, aaron taylor johnson, stephen amell, caity lotz, adelaide kane, kat mcnamara, camila mendes, katheryn winnicks, or scarlett johansson as fcs. in addition, i will not be following or interacting with any blogs of the following: titans dick grayson, titans jason todd, or a majority of dctx based characters.
- i also will not be following or interacting with any blogs that whitewash their characters (ie. using whitewashing psds, using white fcs for characters of color or rping depictions of characters of color that have been made white) or blogs that don't use fcs appropriate for the races/ethnicities of their characters of color (ie. using a colombian fc for a mexican character, using a chinese fc for a korean character). just do your research, have some common decency, and don't be lazy, dude.
- i have untreated adhd, a shit ton of blogs, and a lot going on irl so please excuse any sporadic activity! i kindly ask that if we're mutuals, you please tag animal illness/death if you post it on the dash. i'm xilo and i'm an indigenous mexican (rarámuri) nb fem. my pronouns are typically she/her but i'm pretty lax about pronouns in general so refer to me how you want! i'm just here for a good time not a long time serena is a daughter of aphrodite, the greek goddess of love and beauty. she was born to aphrodite and to billionaire dutch shipping mogul, william van der woodsen, after a brief dalliance just before he met new york city heiress lillian rhodes. once lily met the infant serena, she immediately took to her and not only adopted her, but raised her as her own daughter. their relationship became so strong that when william and lily eventually divorced, she stayed with lily and continued to be raised by her. as serena grew into a teenager at the constance billard school for girls without a father figure and with a mother that, though had the best intentions, ended up being mostly absent, she became very troubled, seeking attention from anyone that would give it to her, and she developed a slight dependency on drugs and alcohol. as a result, lily finally tells serena exactly who her birth mother is, and sends serena to camp half blood in long island, new york, where she gets a fresh start and a chance to figure out who exactly she is.
