

Family note:

Welcome back! I hope you all had relaxing summers filled with outside adventures! Now we struggle to get back into a school schedule. Luckily you get to sleep in for an extra half hour! This is the time of year where our sleeping routines seem off while we adjust to early mornings again so start routines as soon as possible. This means finding a quiet space for homework, eating well and sleeping lots.

Each week there will be a short family note to let you know what we are working on in class. I also give a glance at events for the next month. On the reverse side is an assignment sheet students fill out with their homework. I ask that a parent signs at the bottom of the page to ensure you have read the note. Please feel free to use this sheet as a way to communicate with me as well.

We start this school year off with a bang. Tomorrow we leave for our first overnight trip to Peterson Bay. This is a great way to set the tone for the year and if things go well we will do it again in the spring! I am so excited to have such a great group of volunteers already. As a reminder, all volunteers will need to update their form on the district website (each year), as well as driver information with Laura.

Next week we will start our plant study unit and will need volunteers to help kids sew pillows. If you have a machine and/or experience sewing and would like to come in Tuesday or Wednesday August 29-30th please let me know below.

I am also looking for volunteers to join us in collecting invasive green crab data at Pier One beach the morning of September 7th. We will leave the school 8:30 and will return before lunch.

A letter with information about this class is being sent home today, please keep this as a reference at home. I also keep most information on the 6th grade blog, feel free to take a look.
