D: Reassignment or voluntary transfer may not trigger a report to CTC.
The CTC usually goes after both credentials.

15 Things:

- Springboard and Title 1 fund trigger a federal investigation
- Title 1
- Amazon account
- Patio heater
- Your home address on accounts
- Springboard card deposit
- Venmo account
- Square account
- Using Venmo when directed to stop
- 826 Valencia employee doing the work to install
- SFUSD union workers not used
- Paying out of petty cash
- Asking for reimbursement
- Sold items unaligned with the district authority

- Ambiguity about pass employment

[REDACTED].

D: A voluntary transfer may trigger a CTC report. Moving to a voluntary transfer lowers the risk of a mandatory CTC report.

If it goes to CTC, you will not have to go to the hearing in two years.
Proceedings cause depositions.

Losing your credentials would not remove your retirement.

CTC is public record

[REDACTED]

A calendar invite will be sent to your district email.

V: Can I get my credential back if it gets revoked?

D: CTC would come after you hard

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

The CTC case would be rough and may result in a suspension for 6 months.
